

Providence's Well Being Trust

Transforming behavioral health care by expanding access and improving clinical care outcomes

Our Goal

Expand access to 1 million people in the Western U.S. by 2026

Focus Areas

Our People • Our Patients • Our Communities

About Providence's Well Being Trust

Providence's Well Being Trust is the behavioral health leadership arm of the Providence system and a national foundation dedicated to advancing the mental, social, and spiritual health for all.

The organization is driving impact and transforming behavioral health care by expanding access and improving clinical care outcomes within the Providence seven-state footprint. By addressing the most critical needs of our communities, building proof points, and scaling programs, Providence's Well Being Trust is bringing about impactful and sustainable change.

Priorities

- Lead efforts to financially sustain behavioral health programs and facilitate technology-enabled workforce solutions within the Providence system.
- Partner with community-based organizations within the Providence footprint to expand impact.
- Support caregiver well-being via the No One Cares Alone menu of programs.
- Steward Providence's Well Being Trust endowment to serve as a catalyst within Providence, the communities it serves, and to advance mental health and well-being nationwide.

Providence's Well Being Trust
